General Comment

Dear Ones: I am writing to ask you to not prevent people from buying or selling options in their IRA account. I have been doing this quite safely and successfully for years. I don't understand why you prevent people from doing this. Please do not enact legislation to prevent people from trading options in their IRA account. This might not be a big deal to wealthy people, but for us small folks trading options is very important for our IRA accounts. Please don't do this.
